

Boat Activity

(+) Passenger boat

As part of the development activities on the afloat spaces, passenger transportation is a type of business that can provide a strong economic foundation to the financial balance of the project.

LARANTIDE assists you in this type of project. In the preliminary stages during formulation of your program we are with you to check and translate in the technical and regulatory domain, your business plan.

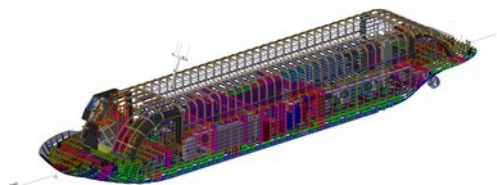

We assist you in your administrative procedures. We provide the basic and detail design, under the control of river-sea surveyors or classification society and follow the work until the delivery of the project.

Our project approach associated with states of the art updated, allows us to offer the best solutions in the context of the project.

Innovative solutions:

- low environmental impact (hybrid or full electric propulsion or LNG, Liquefied Natural Gas, optimized hull forms on the hydrodynamic design and its uses)
- maintenance cycles optimization, increase of life and long-term cost reduction
- structural elements and original materials optimization

Polyvalent solutions:

- ability to have several types of on-board activities to optimize the use on the catchment area chosen based on the same investment

Solutions for the future:

- ability to have multiple economical lives

(+) Hotel and catering business

Reconversion of a cargo river hull to a traditional restaurant business. The reconfigured boat leaves place on its main deck, bar-restaurant with a capacity of 100 to 400 seated persons in the dock or in navigation. The lower deck includes the production tool for a traditional kitchen, capacity of preparation, cooking, storage ...

(+) Hotel barge, mobile homes on river boat, barge design

A project family home, a hotel barge capable of hosting guests for authentic cruises to discover the rivers and canals of France and Europe are other types of projects we do.

The technical design (hull, structures, auxiliary systems, safety equipment...), the design of spaces with the desired level of comfort, site supervision, exchanges with the experts for monitoring, we assist you in all these procedures.
